Life Education

Life education is concerned with the holistic personal development of the students. It deals with the development of the personality, body, spirit, as well as the professional and social aspects of the individual. Students will be involved in house keeping, civic service and other activities of the GMC community. Meditation and chanting and other mindfulness and spirituality tools are also practiced. Students are enjoined to practice the Three Acts of Goodness in their everyday lives. The experience of Life Education will have a lasting effect on the students especially after they have successfully graduated from the college and venture into life beyond GMC.

Life in Campus

The GMC campus is an ideal place for education because of its well-appointed facilities like classrooms, library, computer laboratory, dance and theatre studios and halls for meditation. Every student will stay in the provided dormitories just near the campus making it an ideal haven for them to maximize their time, learning and growth. Aside from their academic subjects, activities such as cooking, arts & crafts and extra-curricular organizations are offered to give them opportunities to further educate themselves. Strict yet compassionate rules and regulations, exemplified by the examples of the Venerable Buddhist Monks, are set to discipline the students which make their campus life full of growth and learning while also enhancing their spirituality and well-being.

About the Founder Venerable Master Hsing Yun

Venerable Master Hsing Yun is the founder of the Fo Guang Shan Buddhist order as well as the affiliated Buddha's Light International Association and is considered to be one of the most influential teachers of modern Buddhism. Venerable Master Hsing Yun has dedicated his life to propagating Humanistic Buddhism. As a "global citizen," he continues to foster "joy and harmony," "oneness and coexistence," "respect and tolerance," and "equality and peace" throughout the world. He believes in the importance and power of education which for him is summarized in four points:

- 1) The task of education is to inspire students.
- 2) The secret of education lies in respect for students.
- 3) The foundation of education is built on daily habits.
- 4) The purpose of education is character development.

His generous efforts in education have led to the establishment of Nanhua University (Taiwan), Fo Guang University (Taiwan), University of the West (California, USA), Nan Tien Institute (Australia) and our own Guang Ming College (Philippines), the newest college in 2014.

About Guang Ming College

Guang Ming College (GMC) is the fifth member of Fo Guang Shan International University Consortium. Being the pioneer Humanistic Buddhist College in the Philippines, it is open to students of all faiths willing to learn in an environment of mutual respect of one another's customs, cultures, and religions. It is dedicated to provide the highest quality of humanistic education and experience towards the well-rounded development of socially responsible and Inspired professionals for societal transformation. GMC's dance and theatre programs aim to cultivate the innate talents of artistically inclined students through a full competitive baccalaureate program. The school also offers a bachelor's degree program in Buddhist studies for students who are more philosophical or spiritually inclined. GMC provides full scholarships for all the deserving students who are chosen to study in any of the programs offered.

Vision

The graduates of Guang Ming College are expected to be ethical, compassionate, globally competitive, life-long learners and agents of societal transformation

Mission

Guang Ming College commits to a Holistic and Humanistic education towards the betterment of self, others, and the world

Objectives

Guang Ming College aims to achieve the following objectives

- I. Set new standards and paradigms in global humanist Education
- II. Empower the faculty and staff to provide a learning environment that cultivates and nurtures human goodness and excellence in thoughts, words, and deeds
- III. Establish a viable and sustainable learning organization

Academic Programs

Bachelor of Arts in Buddhist Studies

The program focuses on the contemporary development and trends in Buddhism with a sociological and philosophical approach to Buddhism. Grounded on Humanistic Buddhism, students are immersed in an environment of academic and personal training that puts emphasis on theory and practice that leads to self-cultivation, exploration and empowerment.

Bachelor of Performing Arts in Dance

Focusing on Asian, ballet and contemporary dance, the program blends the theories and practices of dance performance informed by the other performing arts and grounded with the principles and practices of Humanistic Buddhism and life education. Trained by a pool of leading Filipino artists, the students will be learning dance technique, choreography, performance and pedagogy to equip and prepare them for a future career as dancer, teacher or choreographer.

Bachelor of Arts in Theatre

The Theatre program is designed to nurture 21st century scholars and culture-bearers who grasp the multidisciplinary nature of theatre as well as its historical legacies and contemporary challenges, grounded in the principles and practices of Humanistic Buddhism and life education. Students are trained to develop a collaborative spirit nourished in both praxis and scholarship. The Theatre program is taught by both young and experienced Filipino Contemporary artists for theatre, film and television, which includes courses on Acting Technique, Asian Theatre, Directing, Playwriting, Dramaturgy, Stage Craft and other cognate courses that cultivate the students to become innovative and transformational artists.
